

Instrumentalists added to the Stage Band to make it a neophonic orchestra pause during a recent rehearsal for the February 14 concert to talk over their music. Kneeling is Roxina Miessner, french horn; seated are Betty Shanks, flute, and John Moore, oboe; standing are Sharon Scott, flute, Linda Frizzby, clarinet, Linda Kay Dee, bass clarinet, David Marshall, trombone, and Stanley Graham, percussion. Steve Niles also plays one of the determining instruments, a clarinet.

Bands to Give Concert, Feb. 14 With New Sound

The second in a series of four concerts will be presented at 8 o'clock Monday night, February 14, in the auditorium by the Stage Band, Neophonic Orchestra, and Concert Band. Activity tickets will admit students.

The Neophonic Orchestra was started this year and is one of three in the United States, according to Russell Benzamin, director. The others are at the Hollywood Bowl and at North Texas State in Denton. The Neophonic Orchestra, meaning new sound, is the stage band as a nucleus with flutes, clarinets, oboe, and french horn added.

The Concert Band will feature the "Concerto Grosso" by Ralph Mutchler for symphonic band and trumpet, alto saxophone, piano, and trombone. Richard Boyington will play trumpet; Terry Basom, alto saxophone; Dave Robinson, piano; and Bill Vance, trombone.

Steering Committee Meets This Week To Plan Workshop

The steering committee, composed of several College faculty members, met Thursday to continue making plans for the development of a four-year curriculum for MSSC. According to Chairman Fred Cinotto, the group discussed the philosophy of the new college, making a list of its purposes and objectives.

The committee also evaluated reports from the State Advisory Committee and recommendations from the North Central Association, adding their own suggestions to implement them, Cinotto said.

Before adjourning, the committee made plans for a workshop to be held March 2-4 in which all faculty members will work toward the development of the new curriculum.

Nursing Program Director Begins Plans for New Course

Mrs. Bessie Vediz, a registered nurse, has been hired as director of a new associate degree nursing program at MSC. Mrs. Vediz will have the entire responsibility of developing the plan for the program, according to James Maupin, dean of the semi-professional and technical educational division.

Before joining the MSC staff, Mrs. Vediz was the coordinator of the practical nursing program with the Joplin Public School System from March, 1963, to November, 1965. In the two months since then, she has been traveling to different schools to help lay the preliminary floor-work of the program.

The preliminary plans will be submitted to the State Board of Nursing in April for temporary approval. In June, the completed plans will be submitted for final approval. If approval is given, the College will then hire two more nursing instructors and the course will begin in September, 1966, according to Maupin. The first class will be limited to 25.

She received her B.S. degree in Education from Kansas State

Teachers College in Pittsburg in 1951 and her master's degree in 1960. She is a registered nurse from Mount Carmel School of Nursing at Pittsburg, Kansas, and holds registration in Kansas and Missouri. Mrs. Vediz has also been instructor of nursing at St. John's School of Nursing in Joplin and at Mount Carmel School of Nursing.

Miss MSC Contestants Attend Tea; Pageant to Be Held February 24

Miss Mary Williams, manager of the fashion floor at Macy's, was the featured speaker at a tea for Miss Missouri Southern candidates and alternates at Twin Hills Golf and Country Club February 2. Miss Williams discussed the basic points of proper dress and good grooming. She also demonstrated correct walking and sitting and standing positions.

Miss Williams will aid the girls in preparing for the pageant to be held fifth hour Thursday, February 24, in the auditorium.

Seventeen candidates and four alternates were elected by the student body on January 11. Alphabetically listed, the coeds who will compete for the best groomed girl on campus are Sally Anderson, Linda Arnce, Mary Burns, Linda Chapman, Ronda Dunn, Jessica Edwards, Sallie Farris, Pat Francisco, Kay Floyd, Nancy Kelly, Jeanne Lewis, Nancy Lowery, Jeanne Martin, Roxine Miessner, Deenie Roby, Judy Williams, and Linda Wyatt.

Enrollment Total To Be Talled After Five Today

Enrollment reached a total of 1,229 students at the end of the regular enrollment sessions, according to Dudley Stegge, dean of students. The tally consisted of 550 freshmen and transfer students, 441 sophomores, and 238 students in the evening division.

Registration and course changes must be completed before 5 o'clock this afternoon.

MSC Trustee Wins GOP National Post

Gene Taylor, a member of Missouri Southern's Board of Trustees, recently was chosen Republican National Committeeman for Missouri by the Republican State committee.

Taylor has served as Jasper County Republican Chairman, Seventh District Republican Chairman, and as campaign chairman for Representative Durward G. Hall of Springfield.

Taylor was mayor of Sarcouxie, his home town, for three terms.

Trustee President Breaks Ground For First Building

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the library, the first building to be constructed on the new MSSC campus, were held yesterday morning.

President Leon Billingsly, who presided, spoke on the future building expansion of the new four-year college. Fred Hughes, president of the Board of Trustees, gave a brief talk on the history and progress of the College from the time it became a district institution to the present date, after which he turned the first spade of earth.

Construction will begin immediately on the three-story brick and marble-faced library building.

Alumnus Receives Man of Year Award

R. Donald Miller, former board member of the College Alumni Association, was awarded the Joplin Junior Chamber of Commerce "Distinguished Service Award" as Joplin's outstanding young man of 1965. Miller was presented the award by Jaycee President Wayne Hackney at a special "Bosses Night" banquet at the Democrats United Club January 15.

Miller is a vice president of the First National Bank and a member of the Joplin Chamber of Commerce board of directors. He recently headed a committee to offer Joplin as a site for a state mental retardation clinic.

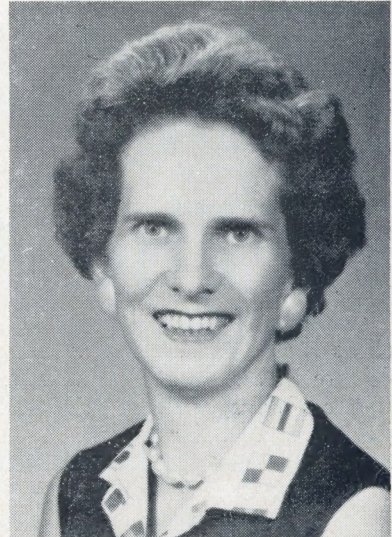

Mrs. Miner Joins Business Faculty

Mrs. Lorine V. Miner has been added to the MSC staff as a commerce instructor. This semester she teaches business communications, secretarial procedures, typing, and shorthand.

Mrs. Miner, who attended Joplin Junior College and the University of Missouri, completed her undergraduate work and obtained a master's degree at Kansas State College, Pittsburg.

The instructor is a member of the American Association of University Women, the Joplin Community Concert Association, Joplin Little Theatre, and a Shakespearean study club.

Mrs. Miner, who has taught for six years in Duenweg and Webb City high schools, is the wife of Lawrence Miner, superintendent of schools in Webb City. They have three children—Bob, David, and Pat Fisher, a married daughter.

Construction to Begin On Campus Billboards

The construction of the billboards designating the new college campus is to start the first of March, according to Joe Hughtlett, president of the Engineers' Club. The billboards will be built from a design submitted by Lynn Lawson, engineering student. They will be placed at Rangeline and Newman Road and on the new campus at Newman and Duquesne Roads.

Alternates are Nancy Brisbin, Susan Lee, Joyce Shepherd, and Leigh White.

Judging on the candidates' campus dress, grooming, and posture has been going on since January 13 by anonymous teachers and students. The day of the pageant the girls will model a tea outfit and a formal. Judging will be by off-campus judges with the winner entering Glamour magazine's contest for the "10 Best Dressed Girls" in American colleges.

Formerly sponsored by The Chart, the pageant this year will be a function of the Student Senate. The committee consists of Barbie Koos and Cheryl Dines, co-chairmen; Sharon Ritzman, Karol Tate, Bob Jordan, Ray Mathis, and Mrs. Julie Hughes, John Eli, and Larry Martin, sponsors.

Arthur Boles of the art department, Milton Brietzke of the drama department, and Russell Benzamin of the music department will assist the committee. The Chart is handling publicity.

On Renaming Jo Juco

With the Student Senate's calling for suggestions for re-naming Jo Juco, our lion cub mascot, we may stop to ques-tion the value of symbols. What is a mascot? Why do high schools and colleges throughout the country have some sym-bol of good luck? Although we may not be able to answer these general questions objectively, we do find abundant evi-dence of the value of Jo Juco in the records of the last 15 years.

Apparently, the mascot had little meaning in the early years. Our cub was "born" when he was given to the college by members of the Joplin Downtown Lions Club to serve as a mascot. However, he was not named at this time, nor was he displayed in any prominent place.

In 1951, several years later, the cub was brought to the foreground by Lloyd Mink, sports editor for The Chart. Mink discovered him in a corner in Blaine Hall, a building which housed offices and cafeteria when the college was located at Fourth and Byers. Mink declared in an editorial: "Here sit-ting way back in a corner surrounded by extra chairs was a glass cage apparently discarded . . . Upon investigating, how-ever, I noticed that this cage contained a mounted cub lion stretched out perfectly on a rock."

Then he questioned: "Where is our school spirit?" and further proclaimed: "To some of us, this precious little lion cub . . . would serve as a powerful symbol, and reminder, if it were more in evidence. It would remind us to give our yelling support to our Lions; it would remind us that win or lose they're still our team, and a clean team of which to be proud."

Thus started a four-month long campaign to place the cub in a place of prominence and give him a name. Taking one step, the Student Senate, along with Dean Tom Flood, succeeded in transporting the cub from the corner in Blaine Hall to the first floor of the main building.

The Chart sponsored a campaign in which all students and faculty members were allowed to suggest a name for our mascot. Of the various names proposed, the most popular were Sam, Daniel, and Jo Juco, which was suggested by the late Mr. Arnold Irwin, a professor. A run-off vote was held between these three names at a penny a vote. The results were Jo Juco, $3.08; Sam, $2.83; and Daniel, $1.85. (Incidentally, the money was used to make a picture and engraving of Jo.)

Thus, 15 years ago, Jo Juco was placed on the first floor of the main building and for seven years proudly bore his name. Then, in 1958, he left his first floor berth at the former site of the college and moved with the school to our present building where he holds a place of prominence above the second floor trophy case.

Why should the Senate take steps to change Jo Juco's name when the cub's name, and what he stands for, have played an important part in our college? The explanation is that in 1967, when we become Missouri Southern State College, a four-year institution, the "Juco" part will not accurately represent our school. After all, what is in a name? The most im-portant idea is that we have a symbol to represent us. Per-haps it is as E. B. White once said: "With every improvement, something of the original which had some quality is lost in the process." —P.E.

Rate As A Citizen?

Suppose one day you walk into class and are told that this class period you will take the Ameri-can Citizenship Test. How do you think you would rate as a citizen? One-hundred and forty-eight members of Mrs. Annetta St. Clair's U.S. Government classes met this situation the day of their final exam.

Forms for answers were provid-ed. Composed of 40 questions, it was a test broadcast over coast-to-coast television several weeks ago which Mrs. St. Clair had taped. Students were allowed five sec-onds to answer a question given by Harry Reasoner, and then heard Reasoner give the correct answer.

The test, which is similar to tests given immigrants who wish to obtain American citizenship, dealt with questions about the Constitution and rights and re-sponsibilities of citizens. Prior to the test given on television, a na-tional sample was taken of a group made up of U.S. Congress-men and their wives, political party workers, high school honor stu-dents, and members of the League of Women Voters. This group averaged 63 per cent.

How did our students rate? Four of the 148 made a perfect score. Thirty-nine scored in the excellent bracket; 58, in the good bracket; 48, in the poor bracket; and only three scored below 59 per cent, with the low being 55.

Nearly two-thirds ranked as "good" or "excellent" citizens. Although the test rated the stu-dents, it also served as a learning device and perhaps made better citizens out of some. How would you rate?

AAUW Offers Loans To Women Students

The Joplin Branch of the American Association of Uni-versity Women is again offering loans to women of this area who will be juniors or seniors in col-lege, and also to teachers for fur-ther study.

Five-hundred dollars is the maximum loan made to a girl for one year with interest at four per cent not to be accumulated until the girl is out of school.

Until June 1966, interested per-sons should see Mrs. Helen M. Archer, chairman of the scholar-ship loan fund committee. After that date, the girl should talk to any member of the organization to find out the new chairman.

Some of the 60 new students who took the School and College Ability Test (SCAT) and the Missouri English Placement Test (MEPT) January 26 are pictured above as they struggled with ques-tions. Given to all students planning to enter Missouri colleges, these tests help determine students' mathematical ability and their ability to use the English language.

Federal Program Provides Supplies

The first of $34,000 worth of educational equipment to be pur-chased for Missouri Southern Col-lege under the National Defense Education Act has arrived. James K. Maupin, Dean of Semi-Profes-sional and Technical Programs, reported. Seven overhead projec-tors and three transparency mak-ers came over the Christmas holi-days and are now in use in vari-ous classes.

He said other shipments ex-pected will include apparatus for a new foreign language labora-tory, scientific supplies, maps, microfilm readers, and various other educational equipment. The technical director explained that the college will pay half of the cost of the equipment and that a matching federal grant will pro-vide the other half.

The federal program provides the funds for equipment that will "strengthen instruction and de-velop new programs in critical fields of learning," Maupin said. He pointed out that administra-tors of the program list as critical fields: civics, English, geography, history, mathematics, modern for-eign language, reading, and sci-ence.

Mrs. Sinks Assists In Library Inventory For Joplin Board

Mrs. Nelle Sinks, a retired Eng-lish teacher and librarian, is assist-ing in the inventory of the books for the Joplin Board of Educa-tion. Mrs. Loretta Frazier, librari-an, said that the inventory is to aid the Joplin Board of Education and the College in deciding which books will go to the new campus and which will remain in the building when the Joplin Public School System takes over in 1967, the year that the College moves to the new campus.

The librarian explained that the inventory consists of two lists. One list states the books which the College does not want and the other states the books which it does want. The books which are not wanted are being boxed and stored for the Joplin System.

Mrs. Frazier said that she, Mrs. Sinks, Mrs. Betty Barcom, library secretary, and four coeds worked all through the semester break. She estimated that the typing alone will consume 25, eight-hour days.

Teachers aided in the work, Mrs. Frazier added, by selecting the books which they thought were needed for their depart-ments. These books and others will remain on the shelves until the library moves to the new cam-pus. At that time, the Joplin Board of Education will decide which of the books remaining on the library shelves the College may transfer to the new campus and which ones will remain in the building which is to become a high school.

Mrs. Sinks formerly worked at North Junior High School. She received her bachelor's degree from George Washington Uni-versity and her master's degree from Kansas State College in Pittsburg. She will assist here for three months.

Art Center to Present 'Citizen Kane,' Feb. 22

"Citizen Kane," the fifth in a series of outstanding films pre-sented by Spiva Art Center, will be shown at 7:30 Tuesday night, February 22, in the Little Theatre. Admission will be $1 per person.

The film was written, produc-ed, and starred in by Orson Welles, along with Joseph Cotton and Agnes Moorehead. It is the story of a newspaper tycoon who gained immense wealth, but in the process lost his prestige. New ex-pressionist film techniques have been employed to depict charac-ters and develop the story.

During the half-time ceremonies, the cheerleaders will present a dance routine to honor the Queen.

Tryouts were held yesterday for the third production of the year, "Liliom," by Ferenc Molnar, but the cast had not been announced at press time. Director Milton Brietzke said that the play will be presented in mid-March.

College Administrators Call Tour Of Colorado Campuses Profitable

Four administrative officials visited Southern Colorado State College at Pueblo and Trinidad State Junior College at Trinidad, Colorado, January 23-25 as part of a long-term program to develop the MSSC curriculum. Visiting the campuses from the College were Dr. Leon Billingsly, president; Fred Cinotto, curriculum-coordinator; James Maupin, dean of semi-professional and technical education; and Dudley Stegge, dean of students.

The MSC officials toured the college at Pueblo to study the problems that institution had encountered when it was expanded from a two-year to a four-year state college in 1961. "We obtained a very clear-cut description of the problems to be faced such as those dealing with staff employment and professional ranking, those related to curriculum development, and those involved with building construction," Cinotto said.

According to both Dr. Billingsly and Cinotto, Missouri Southern and Southern Colorado State are similar in several ways. The college at Pueblo was about the same size as MSC before it made the transition and their new math and science building is approximately the same size as ours is expected to be.

The main difference between the two colleges is that Southern Colorado is a four-year state institution, while MSC will maintain a district junior college and a third and fourth year state college.

President Billingsly was impressed by the careful distribution of courses at SCSC, with major courses distributed throughout the junior and senior years, and the fact that all their enrollment predictions were too small.

Dudley Stegge visited with the dean of student services and the dean of men at Pueblo, examining their policies on campus dress, off-campus housing, food services, parking facilities, student discipline, medical examinations for all students, and admissions management. "This was the most valuable visit I have made since I began working on the development of the four-year curriculum and I saw a lot of possibilities on the Pueblo campus," Stegge stated.

Maupin analyzed the vocational and technical aspects of the Pueblo and Trinidad plants and was especially impressed by the unique data processing system and an internationally famous program in gunsmithing at Trinidad.

Bids to Open Feb. 24 on Two More MSSC Buildings

Bids for construction of two structures to be built on the new MSSC campus will be opened at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, February 24, in the office of the Board of Trustees, according to College President Leon Billingsly.

The two structures, a classroom building designated as Hearnese Hall and a mathematics-science building, are being financed through a $2.5 million bond issue passed in a special election last year. Each building has been estimated to cost approximately $550,000.

Dr. Billingsly said that the college will apply for a federal grant

J-2 Project Manager To Speak at Banquet For Engineers, Feb. 17

WUS Week Begins Feb. 14

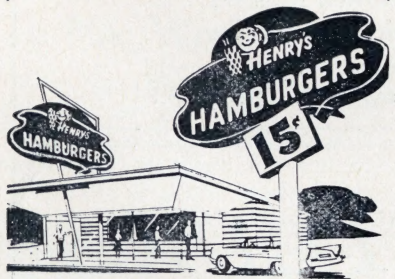

World University Service Week, sponsored by the YWCA, will be held February 14-18. Activities will begin Monday with an assembly featuring a guest speaker and will continue throughout the week as organizations take part in various ways.

Beverly Kluthe, one of the co-chairmen of the project, said that events this year will include a talent show sponsored by the College Players, an auction sponsored jointly by the Young Democrats and Young Republicans, and a College Bowl sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa.

WUS Week was started 46 years ago to aid needy colleges and universities throughout the world with such items as libraries, classrooms, and dormitories.

Vicki Taylor is the other co-chairman of the project held here for several years. Mrs. Barbara Frizzell sponsors the YW.

Federal Grant To Aid Students

In the fall of 1966, Missouri colleges and universities will receive $1,452,355 to aid needy students to continue their education under the Educational Opportunity Grants Program, according to Freeman H. Beets, regional representative, Division of Student Financial Aid, Office of Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

President Leon Billingsly announced that the program was under study by James Maupin.

The grants from the program will vary from $200 to $800 a year and can be no more than one-half of the total assistance given the student.

The College participates in the National Defense Student Loan Program and the Work-Study Program.

The new federal legislation also amended the College Work-Study Program. All students will now be eligible for employment whether they come from low-income families or not. Students now work 15 hours a week while school is in session and 40 hours during the summer at a rate of $1.25 an hour and up to $3.00 an hour for highly specialized work.

On-campus jobs may include employment in the library, laboratories, cafeteria, and building maintenance. Off-campus jobs include work in health, welfare, and recreation programs of public or nonprofit organizations.

"These plans are designed to make it possible for qualified young people to obtain a college education," Dr. Beets said.

Urbanowicz, Fretwell Receive Scholarships From Wyoming U.

MSC lost two lettermen this past week when John Fretwell and Hank Urbanowicz left for the University of Wyoming in Laramie. Both gridmen received full athletic scholarships, which include room and board, books, tuition, and $15 a month spending money.

Fretwell played quarterback for the Lions the fall of 1964 and 1965. Before college, he played quarterback for the Joplin High School Eagles. When asked about his reaction at having received the bid, Fretwell replied "It was a sudden surprise." When also asked about his future plans, he said, "I will finish college there (Laramie) in all probability."

Urbanowicz had earlier received bids from the New York Mets and the St. Louis Cardinals to play baseball, but he turned them down. When asked why, he replied, "I want to finish college." The Cardinals had scouted Hank when he played first base for St. Louis DeAndries High School. He was one of 197 free agents in a special baseball draft by the 20 major league clubs and their farm clubs.

The 245-pound tackle played with the Lions in 1964 and 1965. He was an all-around athlete at DeAndries High School, receiving All-State in football and baseball, honorable mention as an All-American in football, and All-Conference in basketball. Urbanowicz plays first base in baseball. He was a forward in basketball.

Cadet Gunners Rap Lions 81-67

Wentworth Military Academy's Cadets, led by Ronnie Wyse's 31-point performance, downed Missouri Southern cagers 81-67 in an Interstate Conference tilt January 20, at Lexington.

Captain Paul Butherus's chargers found the range early in the first half and never trailed. Wentworth rolled to an 18-16 lead with 10 minutes gone and held a 45-28 bulge at half-time. The Southern cagers cut the deficit to 10 points with nine minutes elapsed in the second half, but Wentworth rallied late in the second stanza for the victory.

Scoring honors were captured by Wentworth's Ronnie Wyse, a 6-1 forward, who rimmed 15 field goals and one charity toss for a total of 31 points. Johnny Kitchens, a 6-4 forward, added 19, and Don Doherty, a 6-2 sophomore center, popped in 14 points for the Cadets.

Bill Roy, a 5-10 freshman, led the Lions with seven field goals and four free throws for a total of 18 points. The three other Southern players scoring in double figures were Wilson Lounis, 6-0 freshman forward, tallying 14, Harry Reaves, 5-10 sophomore guard, rimming 11, and Ron Rosewicz, 6-5 freshman center, adding 10.

The Lions connected with 13 from the free stripe, while the Cadets sank 12. Missouri Southern collected a total of 23 personal fouls to Wentworth's 18.

In conference play the Lions are now 3-4. Overall the Lions have three wins and 11 losses. The Wentworth roundballers are now 2-2 in league play and 4-3 overall.

Board of Trustees Ratifies Bid Form For Building Bonds

The College Board of Trustees approved the signing of a bid form with Commerce Trust Company of Kansas City for purchase of $2.5 million worth of building bonds for Missouri Southern College at a Board meeting January 14. The bonds will be delivered by February 15 and the money will be paid to the district.

The Board also authorized the $25,000 purchase of 80 acres of land which had been under option for some time. This was the final tract of land to be bought, making the Mission Hills campus site approximately 225 acres.

Ten acres of the land was donated for a mental health clinic which will be part of a nine-clinic system in the state expected to start operating by July 1, 1966.
